Seniors Share Some Thoughts

Each year towards the end of May and early June, I personally meet with small groups of graduating seniors to have lunch and a chat.

My goal; I want to know how they feel about their school and the education they have received. I am always amazed at what I hear. Teenagers are not shy when it comes to expressing their opinions, especially about school. This year I heard a common theme, "We appreciate the education we have received and are lucky we came from a small school." I heard this comment over and over again. Others included, "Our teachers cared about us." "We always felt safe and secure." "The school is always clean and bright." "I feel I am prepared for college." "The cafeteria food is good and the lunch ladies are friendly." "I really liked BOCES and I liked our small class sizes." These comments might seem simple to most of us but to our students they are huge.

They are also not shy about giving me some suggestions for change. The BIG ONE; "We should be able to use our cell phones and ipods during study halls and lunch time." Also, more course offerings, especially college level courses, and add another foreign language program such as German or Chinese. They also expressed their frustration by not having an outside running track.

No matter what they tell me, I try very hard to use this information as we plan for another school year and beyond. Their input is important to me — they've been here for 13 years.

Below is a recent group session.

PIZZA, SALAD, DRINKS AND DISCUSSION!

IVISON'S INSIGHTS

Creg Ivison, President,
Board of Education

It's the first week of June and summer is here. Some difference from last year. I just hope our weather is not a precursor to an extremely dry summer as our water sources, boaters and farmers can't tolerate these conditions.

On behalf of the entire Board of Education, I would like to congratulate the Class of 2010 in achieving their latest milestone in life. Your families and the staff at SCCS have poured their hearts and souls into making you successful young adults. It is now up to you to show the world what and who you are. We also want to wish every student the best of luck on their regents and final exams.

I would like to take this time to extend my gratitude to Deanna Soule and Jean Bonhotal for their years of service to the Board of Education. Your insight, dedication and areas of expertise will be missed. I look forward to working with new Board of Education members Tammy Miller and John Shelmidine, who are no strangers to the SCCS Board of Education. For those that do not know, all Board of Education members volunteer their time to SCCS.

On behalf of the Board of Education, I would like to thank the community for passing our budget and propositions last month. I can't reiterate enough that the reason SCCS is not faced with the financial crisis that many other districts have is due to the dedicated Administration and Staff we have in our community. While Superintendent Amell and Business Administrator Fitzpatrick are directly responsible, it is a team effort by the District Office staff and Principals.

SCCS and upstate schools are not out of the woods yet. It is projected that reduced school aid and the state's financial crisis will continue to decline and possibly get worse over the next two years. As the political circus in Albany continues, school funding is held hostage every year and as with most budget items, are controlled by downstate legislators. It is a well known fact that small rural and city schools are underfunded. However, funding is limited and those downstaters always insist that their rich districts receive additional aid. Central New York School Board Association has been testifying in Albany more this year than in the past. They can show where the funding is disproportional and if the existing aid were redistributed, upstate rural schools would benefit.

Congratulations to the 2010 inductees to SCCS Wall of Distinction. As a reminder, the induction ceremony will be held before the Alumni Banquet on Friday, June 25, 2010. I look forward to participating in the ceremonies at these events and meeting this year's inductees.

June Musings from the Middle School—Joanne Shelmidine, Principal

It is June. This year has flown by! I work with the most amazing group of teachers. It has been a year of changes of curriculum and pacing to align with the new assessment calendar. Our eighth graders, perhaps most affected by the calendar changes, have handled the spring with a clear focus. It will likely be fall before we know the student results on those assessments. Academic Intervention Services will be assigned using the classroom assessments from the school year. Additional changes in schedules may occur once the state assessment results are released to the school.

As we did last summer, a sixth grade picnic will be held at the end of the summer for our incoming sixth grade students. This will reinforce some of the information the fifth graders heard at Moving Up day. You will receive more information in August.

It is with very mixed emotions that I must tell you that I will not be in the middle school come the fall. I have accepted the position of Superintendent of the Remsen Central School District. As excited as I am at the challenges I will face in that district, I leave Sandy Creek with a heavy heart. I have been blessed to work with wonderful parents, students, teachers, and staff. I have seen how our collaboration has resulted in the success of each child.

May you all have a safe and wonderful summer!

Elementary Reading Knights

Healthy Bodies, Healthy Minds

The final Family Reading Knights of the year was held on June 2nd with the theme Healthy Bodies, Healthy Minds. With the goal of helping families have a healthy and safe summer, the theme brought to mind the important balance of mind and body for ultimate health.

Nearly thirty families gathered in the cafeteria for a healthy dinner of Arby's Market Fresh sandwiches which were donated by the Arby's in Pulaski. A special thank you to Arby's for their contribution. Mrs. King was busy serving up popcorn to snack on as families finished dinner and learned about summer programming at the Ainsworth Memorial Library in Sandy Creek. With stomachs full the groups headed off to three different centers to continue with the theme of Healthy Bodies, Healthy Minds.

One center, run by Mrs. Royle with the help of Mrs. C. Clark and Mrs. Klotz, challenged families to read nutrition labels on cereal boxes and answer questions about the nutrients in popular breakfast cereals. Families made visors at this center to protect their faces from the sun. Mrs. Farrand signed families up for library cards and handed out pencils and goodies. The glitter glue sparkled in the halls as they headed off to the next center.

Mrs. Hurne, with the help of Mrs. Hobbs and Mrs. Peterson, presented a healthy and delicious recipe for Nut-Free Trail Mix. Each family had a recipe to follow as they combined various ingredients into packable size baggies. This center also presented information on the amount of fat in many popular fast food items. Believe it or not, the all American cheeseburger has more fat than pizza, chicken nuggets, fried rice, french fries or hot dogs. It made everyone think twice about what to order next time, and to consider healthy alternatives!

With trail mix in hand, families went to "Hike the Hallways" run by Mrs. McCormack and Ms. Orr, where families embarked on a nature hike. Sixteen different Outposts were scattered throughout the Elementary hallways and courtyard that led to the complete telling of the story in the book Camping Day by Patricia Lakin. Parents and kids had roles to read and act out as they made their way on this great adventure!

This Reading Knight was a fantastic way to finish the year and prepare for the upcoming summer vacation. We hope families will keep their minds and bodies active through reading, cooking together and exploration of the great outdoors. Thank you to all of the staff who volunteered their time, and especially to the families who time out of their busy schedules to join us for dinner and fun.

Elementary Health Expo 2010

Thank You to all the wonderful exhibitors, the staff who volunteered their time, and the families who came to enjoy our first-ever Elementary Health Fair! Coordinators, Buffy Peterson, Elementary School Counselor, and Claudia Hurne RN, School Nurse worked very hard to provide an evening full of information, with lots of giveaways, nutritious foods, and activities

Sandy Creek Elementary Summer Camp

Preparations are underway for our Sandy Creek Elementary Summer Camp, which will run from July 12 through August 5, 2010. Camp is on Monday through Thursday of each week for children completing grades Kindergarten through fourth grade. Students will be invited to participate in the program if they meet certain qualifications. Parents will receive a letter home requesting information if they qualify. We ask for your prompt attention should you receive a letter, so that we can be sure our classes are full.

Whether your child is in camp or at home this summer, we ask that you include reading in each day's activities. Twenty minutes per day of sustained reading will keep your child on track to being a successful student and adult. Magazines, newspapers, recipes, junk mail and cereal boxes all can be reading materials that you can incorporate into the day, in addition to any books your child reads for pleasure to him/herself or others. Please check with your child's teacher if you need help choosing appropriate titles or reading materials. Reading lists and give-away opportunities for books will accompany your child's report card. Please take advantage of these offerings.

We would like to congratulate our "graduating" fifth graders! You are a very special group of individuals! We wish you the best as you continue your education in middle and high school, and we want to remind you that we are watching from across the parking lot. We have fond memories of your years with us, and we wish you many more great years ahead. Good luck!

We would also like to congratulate Mrs. Sherry Glazier, who is retiring this June. Her influence on many generations will long be felt and appreciated. Whether she helped referee your game during recess, got the milk you forgot in the lunch line, guided your Student Council activities, made copies of your homework or laminated your award, we recognize how much she enriched your life and who you are today. Congratulations Mrs. Glazier and enjoy this next exciting phase of life. You certainly have earned it but you will be sorely missed!

Have a safe and happy summer!

News from SCCS Book Club and Battle of the Books

Book Club and Battle of the Books' members have had a very productive spring. We started the season with the county level Battle of the Books competition at the Phoenix High School in April. At this competition, three groups of students, grades 5-12 who had won at the school level competed against teams from other schools in our county. Sandy Creek students did very well.

After a very tough competition, our 5/6 grade team consisting of Zeke Durham, John McGrew and Rosie Morgan took 4th place, the 7/8 grade team Olivia Bauer, Rachel Yerden and Freya Sergis took 3rd place and the high school team Niki Scheppard, Linda Rudd and Rachael Walker took 2nd place. Congratulations to all who competed!

In early May, the Book Club members took a trip to the Scholastic Warehouse sale in East Syracuse. The mission of this trip was to purchase books to be donated to the SUNY Upstate Golisano Children's Hospital. Over 100 books were purchased for the Book Buddy Program which is a bedside reading service for all of the patients in the children's hospital. The Book Club members had a great time filling up the shopping cart with books ranging from books for early readers to young adult novels. They look forward to delivering these books to the children's hospital.

Our last event of the school year was the Teen Book Festival at Nazareth College in Rochester, New York. This all day event featured approximately 28 authors from all over the United States. The day consisted of an opening program in which all presenting authors spoke. Following that presentation the day was divided up into four sessions in which the students were able to listen to the following authors present: Lindsay Cibos and Jared Hodges, Holly Black, Ben Mikaelson and Laurie Halse Anderson. The festival concluded with an autographing session with all of the authors. The students who attended greatly enjoyed the event and eagerly look forward to next year's Teen Book Festival.

New York State Scholar-Athlete Team Awards

The New York State Athletic Association recognizes the academic accomplishments of athletic teams for each sport in each season. In order to be recognized, teams must achieve a certain standard of academic progress during their season's marking period. Each team has a minimum number of students required to have at least a combined average of 90% with each individual needing at least an 85% average. The NYSPHSAA will then award the top school (for each sport) as a State Champion.

We are very proud of our teams especially when they achieve academic success. It is a great reflection of our students, staff, parents and community.

Congratulations to the following teams for being recognized as New York State Scholar Athlete Teams for the 2009-2010 school year.

Sandy Creek Central School Receives 100% Building Operator Certification Award

The Northwest Energy Efficiency Council (NEEC) is pleased to recognize the Facilities Department of Sandy Creek Central School for certifying 100 percent of their mechanical maintenance staff in the Building Operator Certification (BOC) program. Companies awarded this honor are noteworthy for their effectiveness and dedication to achieving greater levels of energy efficiency in their facilities through operator training. Accepting the award for the school was Chris Ouderkirk, Facilities Director.

Building Operator Certification (BOC) is a national certification program for building operators, offering improved job skills and more comfortable, energy efficient facilities. It is administered by the Northwest Energy Efficiency Council (NEEC), a non-profit trade association of the energy efficiency industry.

The Sandy Creek Central School graduates are technicians, Daniel Scheppard, Andrew Ridgeway and Chris Ouderkirk. They each completed over 135 hours of classroom training and facility project assignments in electrical and HVAC systems, energy conservation, operations for sustainable buildings, and indoor air quality to earn the BOC credential.

"Operators who earn BOC certification demonstrate commitment to their profession and to improving the performance and comfort of their facilities," says Stan Price, NEEC's Executive Director. BOC training gives operators the tools to help their employers save money on utility costs every day by properly maintaining equipment and optimizing operation of lighting and heating and cooling systems. The uniqueness of the Sandy Creek accomplishment is that these three men completed all requirements for both BOC courses. The BOC I course was geared to major component maintenance requiring the creation of an energy consumption profile. BOC II was focused on assessing the facility's preventive maintenance program and optimizing equipment operation for energy efficiency.

"I spoke to an individual at the NEEC offices in Seattle, Washington. She informed me that we were the first New York State School to apply for and receive the 100% Building Operator Certification Award, and we were only the third school district nationally to obtain this honor." "Dan and Andy have done a wonderful job overseeing the mechanical operations at Sandy Creek. To me this award is simply symbolic of the commitment and ownership these two gentlemen, as well as the other members of our facilities department, display every day," said Ouderkirk who is also the president of the New York State Superintendents of Buildings and Grounds Association (NYSSBGA).
